

ARTICLE APPEARED
ON PAGE C-3

WASHINGTON POST
29 November 1983

Personalities

By Chuck Conconi

President Reagan's reelection campaign staff is forming. Norman Bailey, a White House special assistant and a senior director of the National Security Council, will join the reelection effort as the international economic affairs adviser. He will also work with former CIA director William Colby as a senior adviser to International Business-Government Counselors Inc., a consulting firm . . .